NEON NATIVES

Earlier this year I was commissioned as part of the City of Melbourne's Laneway Commissions for 2011 to make a site specific work in a Melbourne Laneway.

I wanted to make something large for the city and a work that would pop at night.

The work features, enamel, aluminium and neon lighting. The 10.5 metre x 2.5 metre work was fabricated by Delta Neon and has just been launched today.

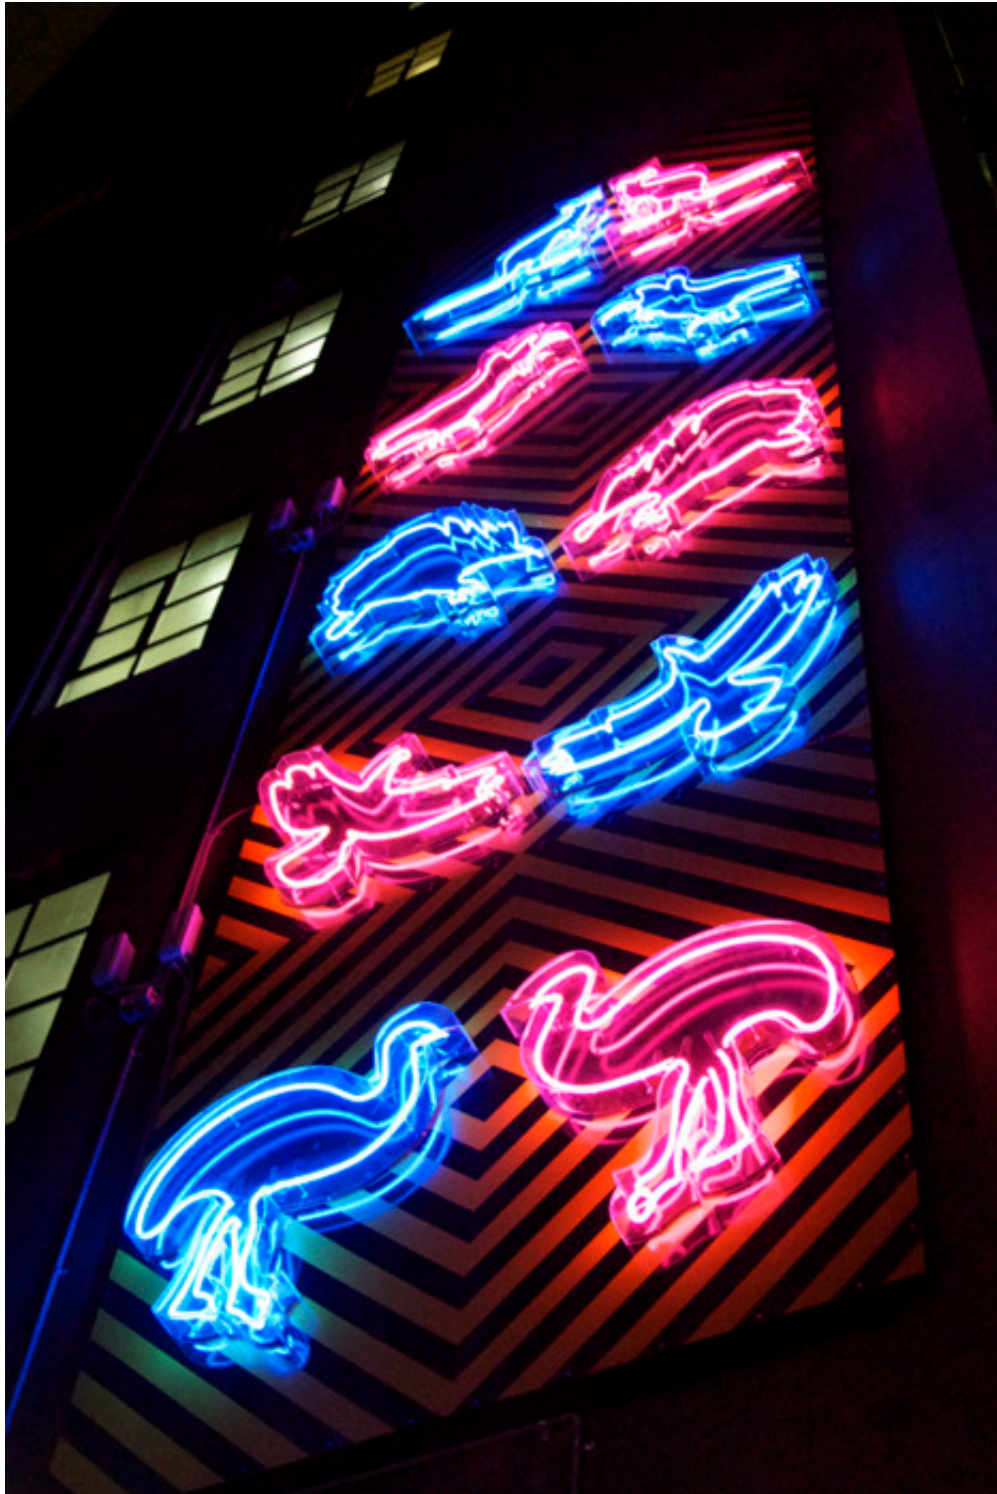

I love how the neon transforms the space at night.

If you're in Melbourne anytime swing past and check out Cocker Alley, off Flinders Lane, Melbourne, Australia.

For more information about the work go to
